IN THIS ISSUE

In "The President's Page," Father Murphy suggests some of the problems which will confront the college in the next few years.

The "Resolution" referred to was adopted by the Officers and Executive Board of the Boston College Alumni Association at a recent meeting, requesting the Senators and Congressmen from Massachusetts "to take immediate action to have the Selective Service Act amended, if necessary, to provide that deferment be granted to all students who are candidates for either graduate or undergraduate degrees as long as they continue to fulfill the requirements necessary to obtain the degree for which they may be enrolled."

In "Conferences of Charity," Gerald F. Coughlin, '23, President of the Particular Council of Boston, St. Vincent de Paul Society, discusses the history and work of the Society.

Among the contributors familiar to readers of ALUMNI NEWS will be Grand William H. Marnell, '27, who continues in "Editorial Comment"; Joseph McKinney, '40, in "Meet Mister Myers"; Harry Brown, '42, in "Undergraduate Semester"; and Tom Harty, '31, whose "Hear-Hearsay!" comes to us from San Francisco this year.

VERY REVEREND WILLIAM J. MURPHY, S.J.

✠ The decks have been cleared, all excess cargo has been dropped, the sails have been taken in; the ship is pointing for the dark waters ahead.

From the dreadful waste of war, the brutality, the suffering some good must be drawn. We shall be more humble, more courageous, more self-sacrificing. It is the way of Divine Providence to balance good with evil.

We shall be asked to give up more butter to buy more and more guns. Our comfort, our time, our treasure must be placed on the altars of patriotism and of charity.

The essential community charities, the work for the men in service, the assistance poured out upon the starving in foreign lands, the aid given to the thousands of missionaries now destitute, will test our unselfishness.

The colleges must be considered in a sense among the casualties of war, and your College will be no exception. Faculty, students, the resources of the laboratories and the lecture hall will be focused as far as is possible upon the work in hand. But their resources are too dangerously diminished.

There are three things I would ask the alumni in the present crisis. Among the charities which will claim your interest this year, let the College be one. Hitherto I have not asked the Alumni to contribute to any of our funds; this year I doubt seriously that we shall be able to maintain our essential work without special help.

If each alumnus would acquaint himself with the educational facilities of the schools which make up the university organization and would take special pains to interest some prospective student in matriculating at the College, such a service would be even more valuable than a large donation.

Lastly let all of us pray daily that this school to which we are deeply devoted may enjoy God's special protection during the days ahead.

VERY REV. WILLIAM J. MURPHY, S.J.

Sixty-fourth Annual Commencement

SUNDAY, JUNE 8

The sixty-fourth annual Commencement will take place from June 8 to June 11 inclusive.

Commencement Week will be opened on Sunday, June 8, with the attendance of the graduating class at the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass in St. Mary's Chapel. Following the Mass the annual senior Communion breakfast will be served in the Tower Building. Speakers at the breakfast will include Very Rev. William J. Murphy, S. J., President of the College; Rev. John J. Long, S. J., Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, and Dr. William H. Marnell, '27, of the faculty of Boston Public Latin School.

BACCALAUREATE

On Sunday evening in the Church of the Immaculate Conception the Very Rev. William J. Deacy, O. S. A., Rector of Villanova College, will deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon to the graduating class. Father Deacy is a member of the Class of 1916 at Boston College.

SERMON

Alumni Day will be observed on Monday, June 9. The program will get underway at 2:30 with the traditional parade of the classes to Alumni Field. Heading the procession will be the Class of 1916 which will be celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of its graduation. The baseball game with Holy Cross will start at 3 o'clock.

The annual alumni banquet will be served in the Tower Building at 6:15. R. Gaynor Wellings, '23, Treasurer of the Alumni Association has been appointed Chairman of the Dinner Committee. Mr. Wellings reports that an excellent menu has been arranged and that the caterer has assured him that the service will be of the highest order.

At 8 o'clock the alumni will assemble in the Library Auditorium for the annual business meeting. The results of the election will be announced by Thomas F. Gately, '20, Chairman of the Committee on Nominations and Elections. Francis J. Poland, '19, President of the Alumni Association will preside and will call on the representatives of the 5, 10, 15, 20 and 25 year classes for brief addresses. The formal program will close with an address by Father Rector.

The program will be concluded with the annual presentation of the "Ham-and-Eggers" under the direction of William H. Marnell, '27. Bill announces that the cast will include such well known entertainers as: Bill Ohrenberger, '27; E. Mark Sullivan, '00; Eddie Sullivan, '14; Harry Leen, '31; Dan Driscoll, '28; Barney MacDonald, '14; Tom O'Keefe, '27; Tom Heffernan, '27; and Joseph Joseph, '40. The title and theme, as usual is an inviolable secret.

CLASS DAY

On Tuesday, June 10, the graduating class will conduct the traditional Class Day exercises followed by the customary senior soiree and spread in the Tower Building.

The Commencement program will be brought to a close on Wednesday, June 11, with the commencement exercises. His Eminence, William Cardinal O'Connell, '81, will confer the degrees. The Valedictory will be delivered by Thomas J. Finnegan of Brighton and the Salutatory by George V. Kerr of Brookline. The address to the graduates will be given by The Reverend James M. Gillis, C. S. P., Editor of the Catholic World.

WILLIAM H. MARNELL

ALUMNI DAY

☘ June comes along with a song. That is what Barney McDonald says, and he's the man who writes it. More prosaically, Alumni Day will be June 9.

You know what to expect. As usual, the baseball team will meet Holy Cross. As usual, the classes will parade, with something less than military precision. The anniversary classes will demonstrate the expected vagaries of costume and conduct. The visiting firemen will crack a hard-shell roll under the Towers. The brass hats will orate with commendable brevity.

As usual, the Alumni Little Theatre Movement will tread the boards in the Library Auditorium. As usual, the Thespians will not know their lines. (We hesitate to say that they will forget them. Nihil est in intellectu quod non prius in memoria.) As usual, any vestige of sanity which may, inadvertently, have become lodged in the play will be rigorously pruned.

As usual, you will be there. We hope in large numbers.

VALE ATQUE AVE

☘ Two years ago we published an editorial entitled 'Young Lachinvar'. It welcomed, in slightly patronizing tones, an unknown Fordham line coach named Frank Leahy.

A lot of water has gone under Huey Long's bridge at New Orleans since that editorial was published. In two years Frank Leahy developed at Boston College the country's finest team. In two years Frank Leahy won for himself the country's number one coaching position. There were unpleasant aspects to Frank Leahy's departure, but they will be forgotten as time passes, and only the exploits of the 1940 season will remain, a glowing memory.

Something else will remain. In a situation that invited hasty and embittered utterance, the Boston College athletic authorities acted with impeccable correctness. It is a sincere pleasure to voice the alumni's appreciation to Father Dullea, John Curlev, and to everyone in authority at Boston College for the way the testing situation was handled.

All this belongs to the past. Denny Myers controls the future. He is a graduate of the University of Iowa, and has coached at West Virginia, Yale, and Brown. For a time he played pro football in Ohio, in days when pro football in Ohio was in a class apart from and above the rest.

Next year Denny Myers will be on trial, but not nearly so much on trial as Boston College, its alumni, and the Boston public. He faces the hardest schedule in the college's history, a harder schedule as any coach faces in the entire country, and the best he can hope to do is to equal last year's record. An inner sense of fitness has kept us hitherto from donning the robes of an athletic prophet, but we now go on record as predicting that we shall lose some football games next year. We add, unabashedly, that we do not care if we do.

We do care, however, about the spirit in which we receive such reverses. This city has the reputation of being the finest in the country towards the chances of athletic fortune. We know Denny Myers, know him for a scholar of the game and a gentleman of the first water. We know that the position at The Heights was eagerly sought by a host of competent men, and that Denny Myers got the job only after long and intense deliberation. We know that he will be successful if we give him his proper chance.

DRAFT DEFERMENT

☘ In years to come, the class of 1917 and the class of 1941 will have a bond uniting them. In the unhappy recurrence of time cycle, this year's graduates find before them the same outlook of a period under arms that faced the class of '17. God grant that the destiny follow that of '17 no further than the present parallel.

Many of this year's class have already received their call under the Selective Service Act, and will enter the army after July 1. The same is true of many in the Junior class, and some in the lower classes. But what of those students who will register for the first time on July 1.

Few people know that the deferment of the induction of college students into the service until the completion of a school year applies only to the current school year. As the law now stands, college students may be inducted any time after July 1, 1941.

In this connection, a resolution adopted at the December meeting of the Association

Conferences of Charity

GERALD F. COUGHLIN

More than a century ago, in the University of the Sorbonne, in Paris, a small group of young Catholic students, aroused by constant defamation of the Christian religion, associated themselves under the leadership of Frederick Ozanam, to defend in debate the cause of the Holy Mother Church. But, when these zealous apologists sought to direct the attention of their adversaries to the benefits conferred by Christianity, the invariable retort was: "You are right when you speak of the past, but what is the Church doing for humanity today? Even you, who pride yourselves on your Catholicity, what are you doing to show the vitality and efficacy, to prove the truth of your faith?"

Deeply affected by this challenge, Ozanam and his companions determined to take more positive action in the defence of their religion. Hence, in the spring of 1833, we find these identical apostles uniting in the first Conference of Charity, "composed of religious friends who would work as well as talk, and who would justify, by showing the vitality of their faith, affirm its truth." They would be truly practical Catholics, translating creed into deed in a manner most agreeable to God, through the performance of spiritual and corporal works of mercy. As the inspiration for their efforts, they chose the great exemplar of charity, St. Vincent de Paul.

Seeking the guidance of an older and wiser man, the youthful band invited one M. Bailly to be their leader. Ozanam, in a modest attempt to efface himself, says of Bailly: "It was he who gave them a place of meeting, counsel, and example; who taught them how to meet in mutual edification; how to help the poor, etc. It was M. Bailly who wrote the preliminary efforts, instinct with the maxims of our holy religion, and which definitely fixed the spirit of the Society."

The Society of St. Vincent de Paul is essentially a Christian brotherhood, whose first aim is the salvation of souls, and in particular the souls of the members themselves. Charitable works, motivated by love of God and of our neighbor, are the principal means employed to attain that objective. Of these activities, the visitation of the poor in their homes is the special concern of all Vincents. Operating through Parish Conferences, which function with the permission and cooperation of Pastors, members meet weekly, to join in common prayer and to discuss the condition of needy families that have been "adopted." Each family is visited at least once a week by a committee of two members, who as representatives of the Conference endeavor "to relieve the spiritual and corporal necessities of the destitute." In the dispensing of aid, the members are guided by the advice of Tobias: "If thou hast much, give abundantly; if thou hast little, take care even so to bestow willingly a little."

Conference funds are derived from various sources: contributions by the members themselves; donations and legacies; collections in church; offerings placed in "poor boxes"; lectures, entertainments, etc., of an entirely Christian character.

Ever faithful to its basic Rule, but prudently reconciling a respect for tradition with a recognition of changing social and economic circumstances, the Society of St. Vincent de Paul expanded rapidly, at first in France and later in other countries. In 1845, only twelve years after its original formation, the Society established a unit in St. Louis, Missouri, the first Conference in the United States. The Particular Council of Boston was instituted in 1861, and today includes 106 local Conferences, with a membership of more than 1200 men from every walk of life. The eightieth annual report of the Boston circumscription reveals that during the past year more than 87,000 visits were made to the homes of the poor; 64,508 persons in 12,270 families were assisted; 109 irregular marriages were rectified; 2,579 children were enrolled in parochial and Sunday schools; 3,840 religious articles were distributed; 1,060 medical cases were cared for; $283,354 was expended.

Work of similar character is being carried on by other Massachusetts units of the Society, centered in Taunton, Brockton, Lynn, New Bedford, Lowell, Salem, Fall River, Springfield, Pittsfield, Lawrence, and Worcester.

Since its inception, the Society of St. Vincent de Paul has enjoyed the invaluable friendship and assistance of the clergy. Many of our Sovereign Pontiffs have granted generous in-

Resolution

"Resolved: That the Senators and Congressmen from Massachusetts be requested to take immediate action to have the present Selective Service Act amended, if necessary, to provide that deferment be granted to all students who are candidates for either Graduate or Undergraduate Degrees as long as they continue to fulfill the requirements necessary to obtain the degree for which they may be enrolled." (Adopted at a meeting of the Officers and Board of Directors of the Boston College Alumni Association at a meeting held on May 16, 1941.)

In support of the above resolution the following considerations are advanced:

At the outset it should be distinctly understood that we stand four-square for adequate national defense. However, since the content and expression of the Selective Service Act was designed particularly as a peace-time measure, the act should be implemented as a peace-time measure. To say that we are practically on the verge of war does not alter the situation. Until the act shall have been changed by legislative process, it remains strictly a peace-time measure.

The distinction between peace-time and war-time conscription should be clearly kept in mind. Our request is for deferment during peace-time conscription so as to reduce to its lowest possible minimum, consistent with the purpose of the enactment, the necessary dislocation in the lives of our young men and of our institutions, so as to assure the general welfare in the future as well as the general preparedness in the present. Deferment in war-time conscription may at times be tantamount to exemption since the conflict may be concluded before one who is deferred is subsequently called. Not so with peace-time conscription, and especially while it is planned to induct into actual service each year only about one-sixteenth of those who are theoretically subject to call.

None more vigorously than we would deprecate any form of class-legislation. It is our unwavering conviction that all should make equal sacrifices. The present resolution can not and should not be construed as a request for special privilege for any "class".

This view is supported by the fact that it has long been the established policy of all institutions of higher learning to provide education for boys of superior ability regardless of their means. As a result a very large number, perhaps even the majority, of students in college today come from homes of modest, or even poor circumstances. Secondly, it should be clearly understood that deferment, not exemption, is sought. Thirdly, in a democracy such as ours, the time and place assigned for the training of one group of young men can very well be different from the time and place assigned to another group; since, differing in talent and in objectives, different contributions are expected from them. Democracy strives for national unity through the maximum concentration of varied individual efforts. Unity is the essence of democracy as uniformity characterizes totalitarianism.

It is our reasoned opinion that the deferment requested is from the long range viewpoint, in the best interests of the national welfare. Since it is vital to the national welfare that the flow of trained men into national life should continue, lest national strength be exhausted, it is imperative that the training of young men for future place in the national life must continue apace.

It has been well said that "education makes a people competent to exercise their rights and duties of intelligent citizenship as important in the perpetuation of democracy as technical knowledge in the military sciences." Side by side with this premise should be considered the fact that the army and the navy have recognized the value of higher education by limiting admission into certain branches of the service to those with college training and frequently showing a decided tendency toward the selection of college trained men for advancement to officers' rank.

The experience of the last war shows that a large percentage of men who leave school for military service never return to complete their studies. If that situation is repeated in the present instance we shall suffer a serious shortage of trained men in all branches. The final result will be that the coming generation will be figuratively decapitated. Will not the tremendous burden of debt which we must pay to the next generation prove a sufficient obstacle for them to contend with, without at the same time depriving them of intelligent, trained leadership?

The training of young men in Science is necessary for the immediate as well as the remote defense of the Nation. Men also, trained to take their places as leaders in the economic and social life of the Nation when the emergency has passed, will be found vitally necessary. The solution of the problems of economic and social reconstruction with which we will be faced when the impending crisis has passed, should be given consideration equal to that which we give to the problems of present and future defense. If nations presently engaged in a conflict, in which their very existence is admittedly at stake, recognize the necessity of continuing the training of men to take the lead in post-war reconstruction, we should be shortsighted, indeed, were we to sacrifice the entire future on the altar of an uncertain present. As President Stanford of the Association of American Colleges so well expressed, we could "work for the loyal patriotism which supports pseudo Preparedness, and work against that pseudo patriotism born of haste and hysteria which would hamper or destroy the freedom of colleges to carry on the essential work of education."

"The need of trained men in all branches is evident, if Democracy, which is dependent on the diffusion of leadership, is itself to survive,—trained men in the Ministry that the religious and moral life of the people may be safeguarded; trained men in Education in order that the present standards of learning and the future development of Education may flourish; trained men in Government that the quality of intelligent leadership in Democracy may continue in these troublous times when the very foundation of Democracy is threatened on all sides; trained men in Social Studies in order that the social consciousness of the Nation which is at the root of democratic freedom may not die; trained men in Medicine in order to insure the continuance of national physical health.

The desire on the part of the colleges to open their resources to the Nation in the present emergency as they have always done in the past, is already abundantly evident. While it is essential that a mighty air force, a powerful army and an invincible navy be provided for immediate protection against any attack, yet of equal importance to the future of America is the leadership that the colleges and universities have given and will continue to give to the Nation.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

American Colleges is of considerable interest. It is the judgment of the Association of American Colleges that the best interests of the national defense require that the policy provided in the present Selective Training and Service Act of permitting college and university students to defer the call for military training and service until July 1, 1941 be extended by the Congress so that during the continuance of peace time conscription regularly enrolled college and university students may complete the academic year in which they may be subject to call."

The justice of this resolution is self-apparent. Selective service means a serious and unfortunate, though necessary dislocation in the lives of young Americans. It is certainly not the will of the American people to wage a war of aggression, and we have today over a million men under arms. The crying need of the moment is machines, not men. The ultimate welfare of the country will be best served by reducing to the lowest practical minimum interference with the educational preparation of those in whose hands the future guidance of the country rests.

dulgences and other favors to the Society. Pius IX, for example, not only endowed the work of the Vincentians with many graces, but also, on August 1, 1851, bestowed upon the Society the privilege of being placed under a Cardinal Protector, resident at Rome. While he was Papal Secretary of State, the present Vicar of Christ, Pius XII, held the position of Cardinal Protector.

Today the Society is faced with a multitude of problems, domestic, national, and international. Its responsibilities have been multiplying at the same time that its material resources have been impaired by chaotic conditions in so many of the countries where the Society has functioned for decades. As always, however, its members place their confidence in the grace of God and in the intercession of their saintly Patron, Vincent de Paul. As in the days of Ozanam, they are endeavoring "to follow in his footsteps, to regulate their conduct by his example, and to obey his maxims; because they are persuaded that, in thus acting, they conform themselves, according to the measure of their limited powers, to the precepts of Him Who is the Way, the Truth, and the Life."

Appreciation

My second term as President of the Alumni Association has practically terminated. As I relinquish my portfolio of office I wish to express my gratitude to the countless Alumni who have so unselfishly co-operated with my efforts to carry on the great work of my predecessors. The years have been busy, happy ones. Much has been achieved. Much remains to be accomplished.

I turn the leadership over to genial "Jerry" Mahoney with mixed feelings of satisfaction, relief, yet sadness withal, that the years with their happy associations have passed so rapidly.

May I shake the hand of each of you and say most sincerely "Thank you, what has been done was made possible because of your help."

On Sunday, March 23rd, Boston College Alumni joined with their fellow alumni from other Jesuit Colleges all over America in a nation-wide series of Communion Breakfasts in commemoration of the Four Hundredth Anniversary of the founding of the Society of Jesus. Following his own Mass in Rome the Very Reverend Father General despatched the following beautiful letter to the Very Reverend American Assistant:

Rome, Italy
Borgo Santo Spirito, 5
March 23, 1941.

Reverend Father Assistant in Christ:

The Peace of Christ be with you.

After having celebrated the most Holy Sacrifice of the Mass for the intentions of all our students of the American Assistancy, and after having applied 300 Masses for the same intentions, I am unable to abstain from once more expressing to your Reverence the profound consolation afforded me by the offering of Holy Communion on this day for the welfare of the Society of Jesus by all our Alumni on the occasion of the 400th anniversary of the founding of the same Society.

Throughout the entire day I shall remain, in a special manner, completely united with them in Holy Communion, and shall beg the Divine Majesty to strengthen them by His grace from on High, ever to follow in the footsteps of the one and only Saviour of the world, and to constantly confess Him in their lives and deeds.

Your Reverence's Servant in Christ,

W. LEDOCHOWSKI, S.J.

To Reverend Father Zachaeus Maher
Assistant for America.

Very Rev. William J. Murphy, S. J., Rector
Boston College
Chestnut Hill, Massachusetts

Dear Father Rector:

The second and final term of my service as President of the Alumni Association is rapidly approaching its close. The years have been busy ones. Alumni activities have run the gamut of variety—from a migration across a nation to witness the Eagles capture a national football championship . . . to the participation of forty eight Boston College Clubs in an international tribute to the Society of Jesus in commemoration of its Four Hundredth Anniversary.

The years have been pleasant and hopeful ones — for the current progress built so securely on the sacrifices of the past points definitely to greater achievement.

The Treasurer is sending you a financial statement of the Alumni Association as of April 30, 1941. It is an analysis as well as a summary of accomplishment. With justifiable pride it can be noted that there has been an appreciable increase in the number of donors to the Loyalty Fund and in the total amount contributed. This remarkable progress has been due to the organized activities of the Alumni whose loyalty to the college, increased by your untiring leadership and encouraged by the counsel of Father Low, has been coordinated by the generous efforts of an able Executive Board.

I am deeply grateful, Father Rector, for your many kindnesses shown to me personally during the past two years, also for your generous and sympathetic cooperation with the Executive Board in all Alumni functions.

Very respectfully yours,

FRANCIS J. ROLAND

On the Heights!

THE UNDERGRADUATE SEMESTER

As this is being written, juniors and seniors are finishing up their final examinations and preparing for the dreaded orals while freshmen and sophomores are anxiously awaiting their tests which begin May 26.

The seniors are finding college days ever so short now that graduation approaches. Baccalaureate exercises will be held on Sunday, June 8 with George V. Kerr of Brookline and Thomas J. Finnegan of Brighton being salutatorian and valedictorian respectively. Alumni day is June 9; Class day is June 10 and Commencement is June 11.

A new Height's staff came into office. Edmund A. Weiss of West Roxbury succeeded Thomas J. Galligan of Watertown as editor; William Riley of Jamaica Plain assumed Albert Arsenault's position of sports editor.

The Stylus, having once again received prominent recognition as a literary production, had their elections too. Joseph G. Dever of Somerville became editor-in-chief, succeeding Bernard Frazier of Newton; Leo Murphy of Roxbury moved up from associate editor to feature editor.

With John F. DeCosta of Roslindale arranging most of the preliminary details, a High Mass in the Byzantine-Melkite rite was celebrated before a large gathering in St. Ignatius' chapel Saturday, March 22. After the Mass Rev. James L. Monks, S.J. of Weston College and Rev. Vincent deP. O'Brien, S.J. of Boston College discussed the Eastern Church with many of the students.

The Dramatic Society staged its annual Greek play May 10 at Alumni field. Leading actors in the successful presentation of Euripides' Hippolytus were John McNaught of Malden; Delphis Duquette of Cambridge; Leo Murphy and Constantine Pappas both of Roxbury and William Philbrick of Mattapan.

In the field of sports: Boston College undergraduates gave new football coach Dennis E. Myers a tumultuous reception when he was introduced to them shortly after his appointment. Myers captivated his audience with his frankness and sincerity. The students are really enthused over this slightly-bald, husky Providence resident who knows plenty of football. His staff of Carl Brumbaugh, Moody Sarno, Harry Marr and Tom Powers represents one of the finest groups in the country. After the players had completed four weeks' spring practice they were unanimous in their approval of the new regime. So, it looks like another splendid football squad for the Eagles in the fall.

That is, if the draft doesn't catch up with such fellows as Al Fiorentino, Henry Woronicz, Mike Holovak, Leo Strumski, Don Curri van, Ed Zabalski, Justin McGowan and Ed Doherty, promising sophomore halfback. These boys are all eligible for the army.

Freddie Maguire's baseball team is not doing as well as expected. The boys won the first two out of three games but then did a tailspin like the Red Sox when Cleveland and Detroit hit town. In an emergency, Charlie O'Rourke played two games

PARADE OF THE CLASSES

The third annual reunion of the "super-annuated" grads was held on Thursday, May 15, at the Hotel Kenmare. In attendance were about 60 alumni of "the alden, golden age." Hugh C. McGrath, '01, was Chairman in charge of arrangements. Daniel J. Gallagher, '92, served as taastmaster. The speakers were Very Rev. William J. Murphy, S.J., President of the College, and Francis J. Roland, '19, President of the Alumni Association.

Among those in attendance were Eugene J. Feeley, '99; William F. Mack, '10; Francis J. O'Hara, '10; Frederick A. Dunfey, '11; Charles S. O'Connor, '99; Thomas W. Hopkins '08; Rev. Dennis J. Maguire, '00; Judge James E. Luby, '08; Rev. Patrick J. Lydon, '04; John V. Borrett '04; William T. Miller, '04; Rev. David V. FitzGerald, '07; William J. Good, '03; James A. Dorsey, '94; Rev. Albert C. Mullin, '97; Dr. Charles F. Stack, '93; Rev. Maurice J. O'Connor, '93; Thomas M. Green, '98; James W. O'Hara, '98; Judge P. Sarsfield Cuniff, '97; Charles T. Daly, '05; Francis R. Mullin, '00; John S. Quinn, '00; Dennis E. Callahan, '01; William J. Long, '01; Thomas B. Jameson, '01; Martin A. Lorenz, '01; Arthur H. Fogarty, '00; Daniel J. Prendergast, '02; James I. Drey, '00; Fred S. Moore, '97; Joseph T. Lyons, '95; Thomas E. Kelley, '03; John P. Crotty, '01; E. Mark Sullivan, '00; John P. McEleney, '11; Vincent L. Greene, '11; William D. Murphy, '11; Louis A. White, '10; Francis R. Mullin, '00; John C. Johnston, '94; Francis J. Roland, '15; James A. Desmond, '92; Very Rev. William J. Murphy, S.J., '16; Hugh C. McGrath, '01; Rev. Daniel C. Riordan, '79; John D. Drum, '90; and Daniel J. Gallagher, '92.

center field and showed he was just as good a baseball player as he was a football performer. Of all Coach Maguire's men, Bill Commane, right fielder from Dorchester and a former B.C. high star, gives most promise of becoming a standout in baseball ranks. He is fast, is a powerful hitter, having strong wrists and has an accurate throwing arm.

Defeated in three of four track meets, Boston College will try to close its schedule with a win in the New England championships held in Cambridge, May 23-24. Last year Jack Ryser's pupils were third with 19 points. A plethora of talent in the weight events may give the Eagles a much sought-after victory. Gil Walker in the sprints; Bill Dowd in the 440 yard run; Al Morro in the discus and Joe Zabalski and Justin McIlwain in the hammer and javelin will be point-winners for the team.

HARRY BROWN

THE LAW SCHOOL

The Law School will admit women students beginning with the academic year 1941-1942. This change in the educational policy of the School was announced by the President and Trustees of Boston College on May 12, 1941. The decision was based upon requests for admission by women, particularly graduates of Catholic colleges, and the fact that physical accommodations, heretofore lacking, are now available. This action will bring the admission policy of the Law School in line with that of the Graduate School, the School of Social Work, and the College of Arts and Sciences Intown. It is not anticipated, however, that the number of women law students will be large.

The enrollment of the Law School during the current academic year is two hundred and seventy eight. Forty-two colleges and universities are represented in the student body. In order to alleviate the hardships imposed by the Selective Service Act, the Trustees of the College have announced that the entire tuition for any incompleting semester will be refunded to a student compelled to withdraw from the Law School by the draft.

The John B. Creeden, S. J. Scholarships to the Law School will be awarded this year to John Joseph Brady, of South Boston, and Thomas Joseph Finnegan, of Brighton, members of the Class of 1941 of Boston College. Mr. Brady, a student in the honors course, is a member of the Cross and Crown and Gold Key honor societies. Mr. Finnegan is a member of the Cross and Crown, the Alpha Sigma Nu, the Editor of the Sub Turri, and will be valedictorian at the Commencement in June. Francis X. Ahern and Edmund J. Kenny, of the Class of 1940, recipients of the Creeden Scholarships last year, are making enviable records at the Law School during the current year.

The final argument of the Bostonia Competition was conducted at the Law School Tuesday evening, April 22. The Court was composed of the Honorable Henry T. Lummus, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts, the Honorable John C. Mahoney, Judge of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, and the Honorable Harold P. Williams, Associate Justice of the Superior Court of Massachusetts. The decision was awarded to the Rugg Law Club represented by Robert T. Capeless '41, John J. Sullivan, Jr. '41, and Francis E. T. Sullivan '42; opposed by the Carroll Law Club represented by Owen Grant, Jr. '43, William B. Hickey '43, and Francis E. Mullen '42. The prize of two hundred dollars, jointly donated by the Honorable John E. Swift, Associate Justice of the Superior Court of Massachusetts, and James Byrne, Esquire, of the New York Bar, was awarded to the winning law club.

The guest of honor was Dr. Charles F. Stack, '93. Also present were Rev. Daniel H. Sullivan, S. J., Rev. Stephen Kaen, S. J., Rev. John E. Doherty of Westboro, Rev. Ambrase Hennessey, Jim Caveney, New York, Charlie Birmingham, New York; Dr. Alphonse Peters of Newburyport, Ed Ryan, Frank O'Hara, Dr. Joe Golden of Staughton, Dr. Eddie O'Brien, Louis A. White and Bill Mack.

The class was recently honored by its classmate, Rev. Louis F. Kelleher, D.D., who delivered a notable address in St. Patrick's Cathedral, upon the occasion of Archbishop Spellman's Silver Anniversary.

Jim Caveney and Charlie Birmingham attended this colorful ceremony and gave a full account of the celebration to us at our Class Dinner.

Frank Keville is executive secretary of the Arlington Emergency Unemployment Committee.

DENNIS A. DOOLEY

24 Castleton Street, Jamaica Plain

Joseph A. Barrett lives in Ossining, New York, and practices law at 39 Broadway, New York City. Joseph, Jr., a graduate from Holy Cross last year, two other boys and two girls with Mrs. Barrett compose the family. For several years Mr. Barrett served as Special Assistant U. S. Attorney prosecuting anti-trust cases in New York.

Dr. Edmond J. Butler has lived in Cambridge all his life. He is a member of the staff of Cambridge Hospital, and specializes in eye, ear, nose and throat cases.

James E. Gibbons, Investment Counselor, with offices in the First National Bank Building, specializes in investment trusts.

Charles M. Herlihy, President of State Teachers College, Fitchburg, is, in point of service, the senior of the Presidents of the State Teachers Colleges.

Rev. Daniel P. Mahoney, S.J., is rector of the Jesuit House, Manresa, Keyser Island, South Norwalk, Connecticut.

Stephen H. Mahaney, Director of playgrounds and recreation for the city of Cambridge, has had a prominent part in the development of the national defense program.

Joseph P. McHugh, of the Texas Company, New York City, lives in Bronxville, and as National Sales Manager of the Marine Division, he spends his winters in Florida, and summers in New England.

Rev. John J. Phelon is now pastor of a church in Kingston. The disastrous fire in Marshfield recently, destroyed the Catholic chapel there which is under his jurisdiction. He plans to build another chapel before the opening of the summer season.

William A. Rooney of the Department of Terrestrial Magnetism of Washington, D. C., is concerned about the the magnetism of bodies in a big way.

Henry A. Sullivan, the only newspaper man in the class, is sports editor of the Salem News.

Harold J. Taylor is Assistant General Counsel of the John Hancock Insurance Company.

Leo H. Tracy is Clerk of the Salem District Court and practices law in Salem.

1915

PHILIP J. BOND

18 Houston Street, West Roxbury

 Charles O. Halloran, submaster of the Thomas N. Hort School, South Boston, is President of the Submasters Club of Boston; President of the Council of Presidents in the Boston Schools, and Chairman of the Advisory Committee for the National Education Association. In addition, Charlie has completed the requirements for his degree of doctor of philosophy.

William R. Duffey, professor of English and Public Speaking in Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, recently published a book on speech and voice culture.

Bill and John Walsh met for the first time since graduation in Chicago at the notional meeting of the St. Vincent de Paul Society last fall.

Edward S. Farmer, 73 Nason Street, Swampscott, practices law in Boston. Eddie is a very busy lawyer. When he first started in the law, as he relates, his two most important connections were as legal adviser to the Block and White Club on Columbus Avenue and the Little Sisters of the Poor.

Seen at the recent B. C. Alumni Glee Club concert at University Heights:

Fother Thomas L. Boland. Fother Tom is one of the 14 ex-men who left at the end of the sophomore year to enter the priesthood. In addition 12 graduates entered holy orders, a total of 26, including three Jesuits—

CIVIL PILOT TRAINING

 Thirty undergraduates of the college started in September 1939 in the first Ground School held at Boston College. After completing seventy two hours of ground-school at the college and thirty five hours of flight training at Norwood they received their Private Pilots' Certificates. In September 1940 the Civil Aeronautics Administration changed the quota to ten students in three trainings, Fall, Spring and Summer. Twenty more students are now completing their courses and ten more have asked for training during the Summer Session. Rev. John A. Tabin, S.J. was appointed the Coordinator of Civil Pilot Training in 1939. Graduates who have not reached their 26th birthday before July 1 1941 may take this training.

B. C. CLUB OF ALBANY, N. Y.

 At a meeting of alumni resident in and near Albany, N. Y. on April 17 the Boston College Club of Albany was formed. Officers elected for the coming year were: President, Philip M. Dillon, '25, 9 Cuyler Avenue, Albany; Vice-President, Patrick J. Tangney, '19, 522 Morris Street, Albany; Secretary, Dr. William L. Walsh, '31, East Greenbush, N. Y.

The second meeting of the Club was held on May 17th with a much increased attendance. Plans for the coming year were drawn up at this meeting. Alumni living in the vicinity of Albany should communicate with the Secretary if they are not already on the Club's mailing list.

ONE WAY TO HELP

 In the middle of this magazine will be found a four-page insert, designed for a prospective college student. The alumni are urged to cooperate in bringing to the attention of high school students the advantages that Boston College offers. This insert provides an outline of the courses, general admission requirements, fees, etc. Will you assist by giving this to some young man of your acquaintance who may be considering entering college in the fall. In addition, it would be greatly appreciated if you would send the name and address of the young man to the: Committee on Admissions, Boston College, Chestnut Hill, Mass.

LIBRARY

 A new section on source material in American History has been presented to the Library by the Class of 1914. When completed this section will include about 1200 volumes. Already included in this collection are such works as: "Foreign Relations of the United States," (102 vols.); "Writings of George Washington" (14 vols.); "Writings of Thomas Jefferson" (12 vols.); "Debates and Proceedings in the Congress of the United States" (42 vols.); "Congressional Globe" (8 vols.); "Acts and Resolves of Massachusetts Bay" (21 vols.) and countless other invaluable aids to students of American History. The officers of the Class are: Rev. Eric F. MacKerzie, President; William J. O'Sullivan, Secretary; and John J. Keohane, Treasurer er Thomas P. Butler, S.J., head of the Science Department at Western College, Weston, Mass.; J. Joseph Ly, S.J., treasurer of Holy Cross College, and Robert E. Manning, S.J., Xavier University, Cincinnati, Ohio and two Redemptorists, Francis J. Kennedy, C.S.S.R., of the Church of the Lady of Perpetual Help, Ilchester, Md., and Dennis A. Scannell, S.R., stationed at Newton Grove, North Carolina.

er James P. Dowling, is a member of the faculty of Emmanuel College. Father Jim takes first place as the scholar of the class.

es M. Linnehan is superintendent of the Narragansett Race Track. Jim quietly placed many a B. C. undergraduate in summer jobs at Suf-Dawns and Narragansett.

ers Lea A. O'Leary and Michael Norton, classmates for 13 years in high school, college and seminary, appropriately curates in adjoining parishes, Father Leo in St. Patrick's, Roxbury and Father Joe in St. John's, Dorchester. They are two of six Boston Latin School graduates who entered the college in 1911. In 1940, 26 Boston Latin School graduates were admitted to Boston College. The 1940 score: B. Special Notice to Class Members:

Alumni Day apply to the Alumni Association, Tower Building, for tickets for the banquet. Seats will be reserved for the class. Paul Flynn wants 20 there. You will find the banquet and the entertainment falling most enjoyable. If you came once, you will come every year.

Meet Mister Myers

JOSEPH MCKINNEY

☞ The newspapers of Boston, and the rest of the United States, have declared an unofficial moratorium on all things related to Boston College football until another football season rolls around, and even the most rabid Eagle fan is content with this edict. Ever since last August, when the boarding house reach for the Sugar Bowl was begun at Chestnut Hill, right up 'till the intra-squad game of a few weeks ago, the canvas panted huskies of the Heights and their doings have consumed acres of space on the local sports pages, and it's only fair after all that the Braves and Red Sox should receive a few inches of the same without having to battle for it during the summer months

Similarly, the ALUMNI NEWS hereby issues its proclamation to cease and desist until fall, principally, though, because there is no further issue of this magazine until then. We really could go on talking about the Eagles, their triumphs, their prospects, right on through the heat of the dog days, even though the Braves should win the pennant and the Red Sox uncover four pitchers who could go the full nine inning route.

And, even now, we are going to get in a few last words which will consist principally of an introduction of one Dennis E. Myers, formerly of Algona, Iowa, and a hasty guess as to the fate awaiting him when the leaves, along with the hopes of college coaches, begin to fall.

This Mr. Myers was born in the aforementioned hamlet of Algona (pop. something under 4,192) in the year 1906. As a baby, he showed great proficiency at blocking and tackling and was very fast pulling out of the line, so that it was only natural he should enter the University of Iowa and become a football star as soon as was possible. From the University he made playing and coaching stops at such way stations as the University of West Virginia, Brown, Ironton, Ohio; Chicago, Hanging Rocks, Iowa; and Yale before discovering the error of his ways and coming to Boston College on the 13th of March in the fateful year 1941.

Dennis, or Denny, as he was called around the street corners of Algona and Hanging Rocks, made one earlier visit to Boston College. That was on Saturday the 15th of February of the same year, when news reached him that Notre Dame had invaded the near East the day before and made off with a party of four coaches at University Heights. Denny drove up the pike early that morning, explained to John Curley that he was an unemployed football coach looking for work, and then drove back to Providence figuring that he had at least done his best in the matter and wondering what more famous, big name coach would get the job.

Through the following weeks, Myers' heretofore almost unheard of name kept breaking through the brilliance of such coaching by-words as "Slip" Madigan, "Clipper" Smith, Jack Meagher, "Moon" Mullins and other Horace Manns of the coaching profession. Still no one paid him any great attention. And finally, when the announcement of his actual appointment was made, even Myers, himself was surprised.

But he drove back along the pike that next day, and calm as you please, took over at Boston College. Since then, he and his wife have taken an apartment in Newton, and Denny has conducted a very profitable spring practice at the Heights. Now he's resting as well as possible and waiting eagerly for fall.

He had a pretty good look at his Eagle team during those weeks of spring practice, and it was a look that left him quite pleased. He imparted a good deal of football knowledge to his players and, what is perhaps most important of all, developed in them a feeling of confidence.

That's just one of the many assets that Denny Myers has on his side as he takes over at Boston College—that ability to inspire confidence where confidence is an essential. Denny also has a fine knowledge of football, the tricks of the trade, and an almost insufferable love of the game. He will talk football day and night, and even when his breakfast grapefruit squirts through the morning air it does so in a graceful spiral.

Myers' professional experience will stand him in good stead in his new task, for the college game is now played with complete professional perfection and Myers is faced with the task of developing this keenness of ability in his Eagle elevens. To help him here he has surrounded himself with a young, capable staff of assistants, Carl Brumbaugh late of the Chicago Bears, Harry Marr, and Moody Sarno. They have adapted their ideas and methods to fit the Myers' system and the four worked well together during the spring practice session.

As liabilities Myers has facing him the draft and Tulane, Clemson, Georgetown, Tennessee and Holy Cross, the five thorns on the worst bramble of teams Boston College has ever scheduled. And you can add to this the jinx that always haunts champions, for Boston College will face the 1941 season as a champion, a taunt to every challenger on the schedule.

That, in itself, is enough to cause any coach to have a sleepless summer, and when you throw in St. Anslem, Manhattan, Temple, Wake Forest and Boston University as the "breathers" on the docket, it's easy to see that he can expect something of a breathless autumn. But Denny Myers doesn't seem to be bothered at the fate awaiting him, and instead he seems to be awaiting it with a more than moderate amount of confidence. He doesn't expect to equal the record of the Sugar Bowl team, only a confounded egotist could expect that, but he has hopes of doing just that or at least approaching the record of the 1940 season.

And, what is more, he plans to give the customers a brilliant show for their money every time the Eagles play. His offense will be a wide open one, sprinkled with razzle dazzle, tempered with the T formation, and synchronized with a series of line plays which, all hope, will be good for any necessary gains at any crucial moments.

Win, lose or draw, however, there is the finest grid show in many a year awaiting Boston fans next season with the likes of the teams enumerated above flocking into Fenway Park week after week along with another trip to that city of cities, New Orleans, in late September. It should indeed be quite a season, and although the papers are forced to forget all about Boston College football for the present, it seems that there'll be plenty for them to write about when the Eagles and Denny Myers break into action again.

At the present penning I am in San Francisco. There are two San Franciscos, — the one you live in and the one the Chomber of Commerce talks about. I've never seen such loyalty to a town in my life.
Make an innocent observation onent some obvious factual foiling and you ore in for the duration. For instance it does roin out here. Yet the boys got together and built a roce track across the Boy on knee-deep lond and it almost sank out of sight in the dew. It is foggy out here. Yet they drive around this oreo like they have green lights pointed on the windshield. Market Street is a snare and a confusion becouse of the double tracks for street cars. Try to snag a cor and you find yourself in a game of shuffleboard and you're "it." The coble cors are cute and crozy. They ore Toonerville trolleys with bells on.
And those bells. It's picturesque, percussive and peachy. Especially in the P. M.

I don't wish this to seem either a diagnosis or a diatribe so may I hasten to note that while the politics out here ore sly, the people ore swell.
They ore friendly, and, I might say folksy, — if I don't sound too Disney.
It is a grand city. Books have been written about it and books can be written about it. It can't be dismissed in a few words. But right now I am a little busy.

ALUMNI BOWLING LEAGUE

Another successful year was completed by the Alumni Bowling League when on Thursday, April 24, the third annual banquet was held at the Hotel Lenox. In spite of sickness and the operation of the Selective Service Act, which deprived us of the services of several of our members, the League finished its season with sixteen teams.

Following the close of the season the top bowlers in the League rolled the ranking members of the Holy Cross Alumni League. After an exciting match which found the teams tied in pinfall at the end of three strings, Holy Cross won the roll-off by four pins.

Officers elected for the coming year are: Jim Heggie, president; Tom McLaughlin, Treasurer, and Ray Scott, Secretary.

LOYD L. DOYLE

79 Bowdoin Street, Dorchester

Don Driscoll was chairman of the Dorchester Jesuit Alumni Communion Breakfast held at Saint Ann's Church and Johnson's on Old Colony boulevard. Many members of the class attended. Frank Murphy "the Old French Scholar" did a swell job in lining up the gathering of over 100 for the occasion.

"Red" McIsaac is now at Camp "Lake" Edwards doing his stuff. The bachelors of the class are shaking these days.

Ben Richards, the Uphams Corner acquire, is a Latin Professor at English High School.

John-n-n "Jack" Doherty is in the Statistical Department of the Social Security Division. Jim Fitzgerald is now with the State Unemployment Commission.

"Bunk" Driscoll, the Malden Banker, is beginning to get that worried look, no reason, losing hair.

Red "Bo Bo" McMenimen, our Cambridge attorney, was right in there at the Varsity dinner.

Accidentally, Owen Dooley, the President of the Varsity Club, together with amiable Tom Gemelli, did a marvelous job with this affair.

Mike Doyle is now serving on the Grand Jury for Suffolk County.

Steve Carey, the Boston Post's new M. I. Cunningham, and dapper John McGilvary, are awaiting the call of the bugle any time now.

How about a little get-together before Alumni Day? Talk it up and pass your ideas to Don Driscoll at City Hall, Boston, Lafayette 5100, or Bill Killion, Park Square Building, Hancock 0086.

 It is with the greatest regret that we announce the passing to his eternal reward of one of our classmates. Tom McKenna passed away at his home in South Boston last month. We will always remember Tom for his good natured disposition and perpetual grin, but beneath it all was a heart of gold. Would that men like him could linger longer, but God knows what is best. Requit in pace!

The good old U. S. A. is rushing her defense program and we need fear no longer for our safety, since the War Department is using such men as "the Great Fahey." Good old Lou's latest project is at Camp Davis, Wilmington, North Carolina.

Capt. Frank Cadigan is at Devens. Are there any other members of the class in the Army? Send along the names if you know of any.

Leen, Lee and Mahoney are upholding the name of the Class in the legal profession. Gossip has Leen slated for another promotion (whew!) Lee is doing very nicely in his private practice, specializing in Tax Abatement cases, and Jerry Mahoney is daily trying Land Damage cases at Superior Court, for the Boston Housing Authority.

If anyone in the class, having enough kids, would like a choice location in Old Harbor Village, see Alphen. He is office manager for the Boston Housing Authority.

Henry Keenan has had a busy year, so busy as to wear him down to a mere shadow of his former self. He is Grand Knight of Jamaica Plain K. of C., President of the Intermediate Teachers Association of the Boston Schools, while in his spare time he crams in a solo or two at weddings here and there.

Were I Winchell, I could report to you from semi-official but usually reliable sources of the whereabouts of that Long Legged Bird with the Big Beak. But I'm no Winchell — stop — and you will have to consult other, more reliable sources for information. Censorship permits me to say that the Old Bird is working on a 24-hour shift for '29ers and there is no bottleneck.

Cheever Kelley always liked the dirt. He is now married to 50 acres of it at Jackson, N. H.

Little men do big things in a big way. Bobby Buck has bought a beautiful big mansion in historic Dorchester. The old professor must have hit the jackpot.

Joe Sheehan wasn't satisfied with his twin girls. Now he has another daughter. The poor old English High School maestro is getting bold??? praying for B. C. timber.

A son, Francis, Jr., was born last fall to Dr. and Mrs. Francis J. McNamora.

Dr. Arthur M. Morrissey has been appointed Surgeon-in-Chief to the Ear, Nose and Throat Service at the Cambridge City Hospital.

J. George Wilchester is back in Boston, after spending some years in the South. "Zeus" has three children. That winds up another edition, save for this:—if you can't take part in Alumni Day sport, be there anyway, will you?

DAVID E. HOCKMAN

57 Reservoir Street, Cambridge

 The lecture by Rev. Francis V. Sullivan, S.J., on "The Seed of Catholic Culture in New England" typifies a phase of Catholic Action of the finest type. It was an outstanding social event. Financially it will assist the College and provide vacations for several worthy children at Campion Hall this summer. As an enlightenment on the part Catholicity played in the early development of these United States, it was far me, personally, and far many others, I believe, a revelation. To the much loved spiritual adviser of the Class of 1930, we express our very sincere thanks. At the risk of unintentionally omitting the names of some who were so effective in their assistance, the Class of 1930 wishes to extend its sincere thanks to President John Convery and his very gracious wife for being the moving spirit behind the successful undertakings of the past year; to our sponsors; to Mrs. William Griffin for her excellent solo offerings, the more excellent because of her appearance on very short notice; to Frank Geary for his accompaniment; to Mrs. Francis Higgins, Mrs. Theodore Hoppe, Mrs. William O'Connor, and the Misses Keyes for their work in securing sponsors; to Mr. Joseph Conlon of the Hotel Statler who, a Holy Cross man at heart, went out of his way to place every possible convenience at our command; to Father John J. Long, S.J., for his cheerful assistance on the afternoon of the lecture; to Bob Brawley, Class of 1920, and John Grandfield for the newspaper publicity; to the Boston College Alumnae; to Dr. William O'Connor, whose prologue was a very excellent and deserved tribute; to our classmates with the white carnations who acted as ushers; and to all others whom I, because of a dilatory memory, have neglected to thank personally.

Notes from the back of a program: We arrived early (Ed. note: the "we" is not editorial!); my fingers become uncrossed as the crowd begins to arrive — the women's hats still cause me that same start of incredulity — several Philomatheia and Propavulus members in the audience — the increased hum of conversation as the hall fills up — Dr. Bill O'Connor's suit and Father Frank's unfailing humor — the splendor of the colored slides — the intentness of the audience throughout the lecture — the expression of delighted appreciation — Father Sullivan's challenging words: "In my rambles through these places, I find that those of other faiths are much more conscious of our heritage than we are."

Our sympathies are extended to Dr. Leo Sullivan and Irving Stockpole in their recent bereavements.

Al McCarthy reminds me that all is not as I feared; his two children are both boys. John Woodworth, Jack Ryder's 440 ace offsets Al's boast — he writes to announce the birth of twins, both girls.

Joe Carroll is President of the Chelsea Teachers Club.

Jim Mooney visits Cambridge frequently on errands of mercy.

President John Convery has been nominated for the position of Secretary of the Alumni Association.

The Class will hold a buffet supper and election of officers at the Hotel Lenox the end of May. Cards will notify you of the exact date. Please be present!

Harry Delaney and I both wear bachelor buttons — but not for long.

HENRY MOORE LEEN

15 Bennett Street, Woburn, Mass.

☞ "Winchelizng" from a vantage point deep in one of Boston's "superbs" is no easy task. If there is a paucity of news it is because our fellow classmates have not been in the headlines of late. But then, the Reunion will take care of that.

Speaking of the Reunion, Treasurer John W. Shork, (19 Waban Hill Road, Chestnut Hill, Mass.) will receive anything (of a negotiable nature) which will help swell the class gift.

Members of the Class will be sorry to learn of the death of Ed Heoly. Requiescat in pace!

Frank Madden and Arthur J. Reardon are employed in the office of State Auditor Thomas Buckley.

Pat Raftery is certainly moving along; first he was promoted to the rank of Captain, U. S. A., then he forsakes the ranks of the bachelors and betakes himself a bride.

Joe Kelleher is connected with the Department of Public Welfare of the Commonwealth, doing social service work.

Charlie Finn, famed in yesteryear for his feats on the cinder track (somewhat funny) has had a recent addition to his family.

Dick Fitzpatrick has two sons, Dick Junior and Peter, the latter only six months old.

An interesting newspaper clipping reached me from Erie, Pa., telling of the appointment by the Most Rev. John Mark Gannon, Bishop of Erie, of Rev. Tom Griffin as director of the Meadville Sodality Union. Fr. Tom is the assistant pastor of St Brigid's Parish, Meadville, Pa., and is doing great work in the promotion of Catholic Action in Western Pennsylvania. Good luck and best wishes, Fr. Tom.

Among the recent benedicts in the class is Dr. Edmund L. Corey, who was married to Miss Eleanor G. Lynch of Canton; Dr. Bill Corr was among the ushers. The newlyweds will reside in Quincy where Ed is practicing.

Jerome Doyle has been named director of the newly formed Naval Civilian Police, charged with the protection of Navy Yards and shore establishments. Jerry also was married recently.

Tom O'Brien is principal of the East Junior High School in Watertown.

John Hort and John Murphy are members of the faculty at Fordham. Professor Hart is a member of the faculty in the Department of Philosophy, no less.

Let me close with a suggestion — any news, press clippings, etc., which you have have or see and which you believe would be of interest to your classmates will be gladly welcomed. Because of the long established policy of this magazine, suggested by the board (remember!), all jottings from police blotters must be disregarded.

JOHN P. CONNOR

1419 Commonwealth Ave., Brighton

☞ George Shine is in the National Guard with the rank of Lieutenant.

Arthur O'Brien is a buyer for R. H. White Co.

Thomas J. Crane is connected with the New England Public Service Co. in Augusta, Maine.

Lt. John P. Carew is now on active duty with the 26th Division at Comp Edwards.

With the softball season coming on, members of our class who are very active are Frank Curtin and Ed Hurley.

Francis L. Sullivan is connected with the Federal Deposit Insurance Co. in Syracuse, N. Y. If any of the class should be in that city, drop in to see Frank.

The class extends their sympathy to Bill Coogan, whose father recently passed away.

George Burke is proprietor of a package store at Newton Center. If any of the class are low in spirits see George and he will guarantee a sure-fire pickup.

1933

JAMES M. CONNOLLY

180 Savin Hill Avenue, Dorchester

☞ Dr. Joe Licata has resigned as a director of the Revere General Hospital and is attached to the Medical Service at Comp Edwards.

Joe Gibbons has received his Ed.M. from Harvard and is teaching in Revere. Joe is married.

In Methuen, Bob Moss crop is following his sociology work as an investigator in the Welfare Department.

HARNEY DONOHUE
Oakland Avenue, Brighton

The annual Class Reunion was ld at the Heights on May 8, 1941.
e technicolor pictures of the Sugar wl classic between Boston College d Tennessee were shown. A new ite of class officers was elected.
e Killelea was elected President;

John Bonner, Secretary; and Fother
Jack Tierney, Treasurer.

Among the boys doing their duty at Camp Edwards are Bill Cagney, Phil
Feinberg, Don Driscoll, Jock Roach, Frank Russell, Johnny Kelly, and Frank Getturno.

Gene Cronin is seeing the country by air-liner. The company for which he is working have become quite interested in an invention that Gene concocted in his spare time and have authorized him to canvass the country to market it. He goes for distance and does most of his traveling by air.
Jim Deary has survived all the tests for admission to the Federal Bureau of Investigation and is now numbered among that select group whose boss is J. Edgar Hoover.

Bill Donahue is connected with the Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty Company as a claims adjuster in their Providence, R. I., office.

The marriage of Jim Flovin to Miss Helen Quinlan of Dorchester was celebrated at St. Margaret's Church in Dorchester on Sunday, April 27, 1941.

Greg Sullivan and Phil Kelly are soon to follow Brother Flavin into the ranks of our married brethren. P.
Rondolph will be married by the time that you read this and Greg follows at the end of the month.

Bill Porks recently announced the arrival of a third offspring, another son.
Neol Holland was the god-father.

Fother Jim Sheehon is stationed at the Cathedral at Rapid City, South Dakota. We never remembered his violin playing at the Heights, but he writes that he gave a violin solo at a recent statewide convention of the Catholic Daughters of America.

Fother John Wallace was ordained this month at the Cathedral in Boston.

Dr. Ed Whelon has accepted a commission in the Army Medical Corps.

Chick Artesani has been honored by an important appointment to the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives.

Joe Hogan must have felt quite important last fall when he received a commission from President Roosevelt, appointing him to an Everett Selective Service Board. However, Joe, because he was within the draft age, felt that he should resign.

Joe Killelea has become a proficient moving picture operator in the course of his duties with the Boston Consolidated Gas Company. Joe goes around showing films to different organizations. He proved his worth when he presided at the football films shown at the Class Reunion.

Al Bowmon is working as a research chemist for the Boston Beer Campany.

George Long has been assigned to the Bureau of Criminal Investigation of the Boston Police Department.

Bob Gavin is manager of a large paper factory in Cootesville, Pennsylv-vania and has also just announced the entry of a third youngster into the Gavin household.

Dr. George Miller is awaiting an appointment to the Army Medical Corps.
He is half-way there already, being stationed at present at Camp Devens as resident physician in charge of the Employers' Liability Assurance Corp.
workmen's clinic.

Roy Jensen has been transferred to the Pacific Division of the Pan-American Airways and is now beating a path from San Francisco to Hong Kong and down to Auckland, New Zealand.

Dr. Arthur E. Toddeo has joined the army medical corps.

Lt. John F. Conlin is stationed at Camp Edwards. John was married recently.

1935

DR. JOSEPH G. RILEY
465 Lexington Street, Waltham

Rev. David Neil Bulmon, C.P.,
and Rev. John Mark Aleckna, C.P., celebrated their first Solemn Mass on Sunday, May 4. They were ordained by the Most Reverend Richard J.
Cushing, D.D., on May 1 at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, Boston.

John Churchword and James Woods are now associated with the Federal Bureau of Investigation and assigned to National Defense activities.

Ray Towle is a sergeant, United States Army, stationed at Camp Edwards on the Cope.

Both Bob and Joe Curron are engaged in the field of Social Service, Joe located in Boston, and Bob in Kingston, N. Y., where he is supervisor of Catholic Charities for this District.

W. Wallis Mothison is an engineer in the fluorescent lamp division of the Champion Lamp Co., Lynn, Mass.

Don Shonnon is a practising attorney with offices at 11 Beacon Street, Boston.

Frank Murphy is in the real estate business in Cambridge.

Bill Landry who has been with the Boston Woven Hosiery and Rubber Co. for the past four years is now attached to the planning department of the organization.

Formerly associated with the English department at the University of Wisconsin, Graver Cronin is now teaching English Literature in the Fordham University Graduate School.

Other members of the class in the legal profession are Ed Callahan, Gerry O'Hara and Bill FitzSimons. All have their offices in downtown Boston.

Although we have not heard from him for a long time we are told that Dick Vaughn is living in Maine. His territory as salesman for the Johnson's Wax Co. covers that state.

Dr. John P. Sheedy has recently been commissioned an Assistant Surgeon in the Reserve Corps of the United States Public Health Service and assigned to active duty.

Frank Eaton has been interested in the juvenile guidance aspect of Social Service since obtaining his graduate degree in this field. At present he is Boys Counsellor at the Ella Lyman Cabot Foundation in Cambridge. Charles "Chick" Featherstone is credit manager of the General Electric Credits Corporation.

Dick Cuniff is associated with the First National Stores of Boston. He resides in Wakefield, Mass.

Fellows we would like to hear from: Norman Holly, John Honahan, Ed Mitchell, George Sargent.

Dr. Charles J. Hart has entered the United States Public Health Service and is stationed at the Marine Hospital in Memphis, Tenn.

Among the ushers at the first Mass of Rev. David (Neil) Bulman, C.P., were Robert J. Clancy, Paul F. Raftery, Robert T. Quinn of 1935 and Richard McGinnis, '36.

Bob Clancy is teaching in a private school in Connecticut.

Paul Raftery is Principal of the Vocational School in Milford.

Bob Quinn is teaching Social Studies at Belmont High School.

William F. Corney is married and living at 15 Hampstead Road, Jamaica Plain.

Dr. George E. Quigley and Miss Mary A. O'Toole of Newton were married recently. The newlyweds are living in Hyannis.

1936

JOSEPH P. KEATING
27 East Street, Natick, Mass.

☞ The Varsity Club Dinner at the Statler certainly brought a good many of our classmates out of seclusion — it certainly amounted to a class reunion.

Father Jack Maguire, ex-president of the class, was greeting old friends all evening. He is looking fine, is very happy in his vocation, and wants to be remembered to all the class.

Tom O'Brien is now an assistant department head at the Statler and in his new capacity was certainly in position to meet most of the "thirty-sixers" present; as the old saying goes "All roads lead to — to er —" well most of them lead to Tom's department that night.

Among the others whom we were able to spot and talk to were: Jerry Burke, Tip O'Neil, Tim Ready (still all smiles), George Mahoney, George Naymie (George is now manager of a gasoline dispensary in Dorchester), Ted Galligan (ready and willing to talk sports all night), George Finn, Larry Hern, George Goodwin, Charlie Dolan (now employed in the Retail Credit Union), Eddie Furbush, and John O'Connor. Undoubtedly there were more of the fellows there, but the crowd was so large it was impossible to spot anyone else.

Remember good-natured-but-worried-over-Greek (as weren't we all!) Don MacDonald? Well Don is now a successful undertaker in Watertown. Larry Hillbruner is assistant manager of the Lafayette Radio in Boston, and Bren Shea is assistant Treasurer of the Mt. Washington Co-operative Bank in — of all places — South Boston.

Our good friend, soft-spoken Jim O'Hearn, among the first to graduate from the Social Service School, is working in his chosen field down in the nation's capital; Fred Garrity, another Social Service man, is located in Baltimore and has taken unto himself a wife. George Ryan is with the Overseers of Public Welfare in Boston, as is Dan Steele, who deserted the class after sophomore to go to the Law School. (Come out and see me sometime, boys, I'm a member of the "Public" and maybe my welfare needs to be cared for).

Vin Hughes is in the Accounting Division of the War Department in Boston and is one of the cogs in our first line of defence. Bob Chamberlain is with the Underwood Typewriter Co. and works out of San Francisco.

In the last issue of the news I pulled a faux-pas and had Fritz Hart on the verge of becoming a Father (religious, not matrimonial). To my embarrassment I have since learned that I got my tips crossed. Fritz is working with Lever Brothers, and has been since graduation. However I am sure of this: Likeable Amby Flynn is about to graduate from the Sem. (Well, I'm glad I got somebody to fill Fritz's place).

Ted Magner was in town for a short vacation from his border patrol duties — Ted had many interesting stories — these being wonderful times along any frontier. Ted reports that the annual class communion breakfast was a fine affair. Yours truly was unable to attend due to press of personal affairs.

President Fred Roche is working hard with his committee to line things up for our fifth-year reunion and the class gift. If you have not already heard from Fred you will soon. Let's all get solidly behind any plans that have been arranged and make our reunion a memorable one.

LONELY HEARTS COLUMN

I would appreciate receiving letters from each and every member of the class to help build up an interesting column. Send along the dope and we'll thank you for it.

Charles J. Richardson is City Superintendent for the Waldorf System, Inc., in Newark, N. J. Charlie lives at 88 Monroe Place, Bloomfield, N. J. From Southern California come reports of the approaching nuptials of Brenton Gordon. It is reported that Brent will return home this summer for a vacation, then return to work with his bride.

STEPHEN A. WITHAM
30 Irving Street, Cambridge

☞ The Editor phoned and said he didn't dare publish another edition without a word from our class. He has reviewed so much "fan mail" (of a threatening nature) from Cincinnati and other inland points that something had to go in this space, even if it was just white space filled. "With Compliments of '37". Instead I'll tell some lies about some of you — if you'll only get sore and rect me I'll at least find out something about you.

It's just to alibi for past omissions — Driscoll is not dead, he takes at long walk this May. Sun Oil did Grace Gai (Driscoll by now) just haven't released enough time to Stan enable him to release same class ws.

Have you been tagged lately? I doubt it, at least since John Bonner is taken over the public relations problems of the B. P. D. Some day I'll corner John (at least eight feet from the corner, however) and see how he handles the women drivers, anyway.

The Brookline softball team is angling for the services of Morrie Blitz, although the nearest anybody ever gets is Morrie is the "rumor" that he's around. Speaking of softball, you know how your wives ought to come out to the Heights these summer evenings and watch George Curtin carry "Cambridge 'A'".

John Jordan has turned professor and basketball coach at St. Mary's High School in Braakline.

Acquire" T. Grimes is building a nest at Westwood. I can't afford it, but he'd like to sell you a house in that town.

From a very reliable source I hear that "Admiral" Joe Murray chartered a battleship (maybe it was just Tuscaloosa) for a winter trip to Panama, but while every other future ensign came back with a conga ship, Joe's boat just went down to Norfolk, Va., and tied up.

Dimmy Daitz in Park Street not long ago and he tried to sell me a wife, but I assured him that I already had too close to one (on the fourth floor with July just ahead). Bonner passed by my desk a while back. He is married and looking forward to the day when he can take his family down to Brewster on the beach and bring it up on Quaker Oats.

Sullivan would like to measure these waistslines, fellows, and a coat of arms vest might be included in the line sale. Washington Street is still his address.

McInerney got as far as Philadelphia for Talon, Inc., before returning to Massachusetts and Camp Edwards. He really has his heart set on the Naval Supply Corps and a change from khaki to blue is very desirable.

Donelan is still holding forth at the Staley College, but if I know John he must be doing three other things, too.

Best of luck to Bill Sullivan at South Bend.

And now we all ask where are Adelmann, Barry, Carey, Doly, Egan, Ferdinuzzi, Gambino, Harrigan, Jobin, Keaney, Lang, McCorry, McKee, Noonan, O'Brien, Pendergast, Quigley, Richards, Stenholm, Sullivan (M.H., D.J., P.B., R.E., T.A., and T.F.), Tobey, Vaas, Walsh, Ziniti, and the rest? We will all enjoy hearing about YOU — bring us up to date with a penny postcard (at least)! The address is above.

Taking a Defence Course in the Chemistry of Powder and Explosives at M. I. T. are two courageous men of '40; James J. Ryan and John P. Masterson.

Our classmates now studying at St. John's Seminary at Brighton are: Joe Reilly, Frank Connors, Bill Granville, Neil Harrington, Bernie Herlihy, Frank Lally, John Philbin, Joe Foley, Ray Thomas, Walter Doyle, Dick Lombard, John Coffey, Charlie Sheehy, Frank O'Neil, Charlie McIsaac, Fred Condon, John Dacey, Cyril Toland, John Mulkern, and John Scannell.

Joseph McCarthy is now interested in paint chemistry while working for Devae & Raynolds in Malden.

Ensign McNamara, known to many as "Fish," is exerting authority on board the U. S. S. Prairie State.

Ensign Richard Powers of the Quartermaster's Corps is stationed at Washington, D. C.

White trucks are really selling now that Joe Costigan is in their sales department.

Leo Riley, the handy man with all painted instruments, is studying medicine at Boston University.

Jack Mackin and Connie McGrath will complete their courses at Annapolis this month.

Mike Noonan, of clarinet fame, will benefit more than the jitterbugs when he completes his Social Service training at Boston University.

Ensign Joe Groden of the U. S. S. Henley is now stationed at Hawaii while his friend Bob McGee, also an ensign, is in New York on the U. S. S. Wasp.

You may not want to see Joe Foley and Tom Ford soon because they are studying at Tufts Dental School. John "Bennie" Goodman is acquiring the art of extracting painfully at Harvard Dental School.

Leo G. Brehm is the organist and choirmaster at St. William's Church in Dorchester and he is contuing his studies in music at the New England Conservatory of Music.

Happy landings to Charlie Vaughn, Army Air Corps at Tuscaloosa.

Bob Cromwell was recently commissioned an Ensign after completing his training at the Naval Air Station in Pensacola.

Paul F. X. Dunigan is a powder chemist with DuPont. He was recently transferred from the Carney's Point, N. J., plant to the new one at Charleston, Indiana, which is opening as the largest military explosives plant in the world. His home address is 315 East 11th Street, New Albany, Indiana.

ATTENTION, EAGLE FANS BOSTON COLLEGE vs. TULANE UNIVERSITY NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA SEPTEMBER 27, 1941

Again this year the Alumni Association is sponsoring an official excursion to New Orleans for the Tulane game on September 27. The party will leave Boston from the South Station via the New Haven R. R. at 3.00 P. M. (D. S. T.) on September 25th to New York, thence to Washington and over the famous Blue Ridge Mountain route — thru Virginia, Tennessee and Alabama, arriving New Orleans Saturday morning, September 27th. Accommodations will be provided at the Hotel Roosevelt, New Orleans' finest hotel. Tickets will be provided for the game on Saturday afternoon, and those who desire may journey to Baton Rouge to view the Holy Cross-Louisiana State University game on Saturday evening. The party will leave New Orleans Sunday evening, arriving Boston Tuesday afternoon. Drawing room-compartment cars will be provided, also deluxe coaches and all meals will be provided in dining cars in both directions. Cost of the first class trip in Pullmans, including transportation, meals en route, hotel, ticket to game, will be $117.50 — plus a charge of $2.50 per person in compartments and $5.00 per person in drawing rooms, round trip. Rate for those travelling in deluxe coaches will be $72.75 covering same meals, hotel accommodations and football ticket as provided in the Pullman trip. Arrangements have been made so that rooms will be ready for occupancy on arrival of the party Saturday morning in New Orleans. As hotel accommodations in New Orleans will be limited reservations should be made as early as possible with the Alumni office at Chestnut Hill or McCready Tourist Agency, 600 Washington Street, Boston, Mass. R. GAYNOR WELLINGS, '23, Chairman.
